

MORNING GLORIES: A Celebration of Natural Beauty

Terri: The glory of a simple flower – it is more eloquent than any human statement.

Tim: I agree, but why make a statement? Isn't it better to just breathe softly, smile, and perhaps whisper "ahh"?

Sam: (sipping some beer) Whud'z dis got'ta do with America?

Kris: Perhaps if we took more time to appreciate flowers we would realize there is less reason to fight and kill.

Terri: (laughing cynically) Fat chance of that!
