

MASTER FEN'S DISCOURSE:

A collection of pixels

Why have you forgotten
what human birth is for?
Why do you hunger
for things that suffering store?
Why be restless
when there's nowhere to go?
Why pretend satisfaction
when it's merely a show?
Practice. Practice. Practice.
There's nothing more to say.
Too much involvement with words
results in intellectual games.
That is why Fen is a period:
a point to end (one breath)
& breathe again . . .

An-Yi: (raising his eyebrows) What is Fen saying?

Chariya: Fen is not saying anything.

An-Yi: Then what were you hearing?

Chariya: Something forgotten long, long ago.
