

WHICH MASTER?

Some Thoughts about Spiritual Teachers

Which satguru
do you want to see -

The one flying a helicopter
Driving a Mercedes Benz AMG & smiling coyly on TV?

Or the one meditating deeply In union with Lord Shiva while embracing new discoveries?

Which spiritual teacher seems more true -

The one selling sacred trinkets living as an ashram celebrity & marketing pseudo-scientific beliefs?

Or the one who always remains within an unseen sanctum - intent on Only One Thing?

Each of these scenarios might seem "true"
in ashram communities

Perhaps what we see depends on our preconceptions & how we interpret the contractions about those crazy enough to teach.
