

GLOBAL WARMING:

Some thoughts about human induced climate change

Palm trees in Tokyo
More and more glaciers bare

Tail pipes spewing out toxic wastes
Jet planes speeding through air

Shorelines rising inch by inch Ice caps shrinking in size

Disease demographics shifting Mosquitoes & cockroaches thrive

Thermometers break records
As blood drips on barbed wires

Welcome to Kentucky Fried McEarth - where things are spicy, hot, 'n stuck in over-drive!

Welcome to a flamin' nightmare - created by fantasies you (& billions more) desire ...

Fantasies
propelling the world's economy

Fantasies shouting, "buy! buy!"
as our planet replies, "bye bye!"

Julcs: Amazing: some people still deny that global warming is happening.

Elijah: ... or blame it on factors unrelated to human activity.

Andrei: Our capacity for denial is deep-seated, especially when powerful economic interests are involved.

Philyra: The denial runs too deep. A wake-up call is due.
