

WHAT IF?

Some Thoughts about Post-Democracy in honour of Colin Church

Frida: Poems like this are boring: "what if" questions are basically a waste of time.

Ying: Perhaps so, but isn't also good to remember that the universe isn't as solid as we imagine?

Dmiritri: (nodding) Yep! Our world is a matrix with in which billions of "what ifs" converge into "what seems."

Satoru: (yawning) Uh huh . . . well, what if we changed the topic?
