

SHIT WISDOM:

A contemplation straight from the bowels

Each person should examine their crap as a down-to-earth meditation reflecting on what comes out without scruples

"How did these turds become this way?"
"Of my lifestyle – what's this say?"

Shit speaks

For those who taking time to observe there's a wisdom
straight from the bowels

What's wrong with our planet today?

Most humans are too full of crap
& the stuff from their bowels mirrors their brains

Cultivate a deep compassion for crap – it's a honest barometer of events that have come to pass

Rise above squeamishness
& learn to relax

Every moment
each of us are moving through the World's Intestines
