

OCEAN HEALING:

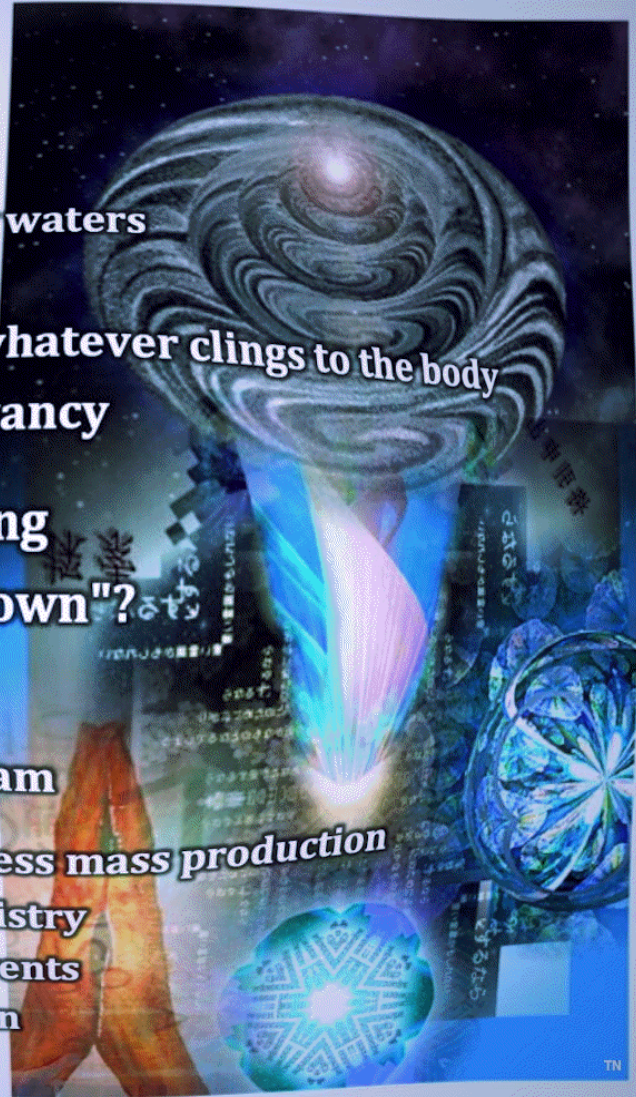

Exploring pre-human consciousness

Don't hesitate to enter new waters & touch the sea
Those waters will cleanse whatever clings to the body
& help you experience buoyancy

Why be polluted by imagining there's anything solid you "own"?

You're a fish with legs
in an ocean where many roam

Instead of engaging in endless mass production & pseudo-intellectual sophistry remember those clear currents
free of human manipulation that flow forever deep...

Lis : Determination: Isn't that a recipe for danger? People who are determined often become blind to everything other than their own grand missions, causing havoc to any who get in their way.

Lex : Perhaps, but what greatness comes without ambition? Half-hearted measures seldom yield fruit.

Ron : (laughing while sipping a beer) This conversation is idiotic!

Lex : (ignoring Ron) Aren't most aspirations for greatness arrogant?

Lis : (examining her wedding ring) Indeed. In the end, we're but dust.
