

AGE GAPS:

Thoughts on Trans-generational Communication

When old people gaze at children what do they see?

A myriad of options which may never come to be?

When children glance at old folks what do they perceive?

A mass of wrinkles & shattered histories?

In a society where so much is outdated
as soon as it's created it gets harder and harder to cross the gap of years

Whenever we rely on words things become tangled

We must discover hermetic bonds less easily mangled
