

GENESIS:

A Constructionist Theory of Literature

II.

Juanita: Reading is seldom an entirely pleasant process.

Shu: Agreed. We have to constantly filter the material we read and evaluate the validity of what is presented.

Jack: You make it sound so dry. Sometimes readers want to be seduced. It is surprising how often many readers are willing to suspend disbelief.

- T Newfields

Begun: 2005 in Tokyo, Japan Finished: 2020 in Yokohama, Japan

