

FULL SPECTRUMS:

Thoughts about art, nudity, and pornography

- Don: (looking at the graphic manipulation) You should erase this picture - it has a nude image.
- Cindy: What's wrong with that? Shouldn't we exult in the pure human form?
- Bai-Luo: This could get you into trouble. No all people are so open-minded. To some, any naked flesh is inherently pornographic.
- Aiko: What a shame! The human body - when portrayed with respect - manifests with great beauty.
- Cindy: Different cultures perceive this differently. You might see a woman smiling fearlessly looking at a camera. Others will see moral impropriety.
- Don: Yeah. And why this surrealism? The earth is upside-down . . .
- Bai-Luo: (shrugging) Well, perhaps our views of the world are upside-down . . .