

A HOMAGE TO MICHELANGELO: A Light-Hearted Discourse

Carlos : What does this image have to do with Michelangelo, the artist?

Brice : (in jest) Shouldn't that be obvious? Didn't you study art history?

Carlos : Most of the things I've studied in school I've forgotten. How much school learning is useful?

Brice : You have a point there. Anyway, Michelangelo is a common name and every person should be an artist of some sort.

Anya : (raising her eyebrows) Hey, are you two actually talking or just goofing off?

Brice : We are basically moving our lips, but you know: sometimes that results in interesting trips.

Devani : Uh huh. (imitating a rap song) And if with your oblivion you can come to grips, then any playful activity becomes a celebration of bliss.

Anya : So is there THC in your coffee?
